By W. W. WHITAKER
When he feels like it.

On Wednesday night Editor Whitaker suffered a coronary thrombosis on the left side. At this time Thursday, noon, he is resting fairly well at his home. No visitors are allowed.

Grenada went all out to welcome McQuay, Inc. over the weekend and a perfect climax came Monday afternoon at the dedication ceremonies. If you were not there, you missed a rare opportunity to see at first hand how proud a community can be to present a $1,075,000 plant to a reliable manufacturer, and at the same time witness the acceptance of the plant by the manufacturers, as a trust.

We were proud that Monroe Looney, president of the Chamber of Commerce, spoke so well; were happy for Attorney Bill Fedric who introduced Ben Sanders, president of the Grenada County Board of Supervisors, who gave the key to the building to McQuay's president, Roy Resch.

Mr. Resch said many things, and expressed a hope, born of vision, that before too long, the present plant will be twice as big as it is now.

The speakers stand was decorated with huge baskets of lavender glads and mums, also the McQuay emblem "Make The Seasons Come To You" and a large American flag.

We were proud of Gov. Hugh White's address. Couldn't help but be concerned when Si Corley, secretary of Agriculture and J. P. Coleman (Gov. Elect) Attorney General of Miss. assisted Gov. White to the podium. He need Helena Rubenstein's reduce book.)

And the pictures of McQuay personnel appearing on this page are courtesy of Mr. and Mrs. Grimes over at the Daily-Star. Thanks!!

Welcome to new subscriber, Kenneth Lundberg, who is general manager of McQuay.

Also welcome to W. M. Trammel of Route 2, and to Mrs. Oliver Wendell Holmes III of Corcoran, Texas, who are new getters of the GCW.

Below are a few of the many who have renewed their subscription lately:

Miss Mary Ella Collins; Mrs. Wm. E. Jones, Mrs. John Keeton Sr., John Keeton, in Natchez; James McQuay in Col. Ohio; Dr. Floyd Keelman (sent by mother) in San Diego, Calif.; Mrs. Eugene Davis of Jackson; Mrs. Ralph King, nee Annie Jones, of Monroe, La.; and 20 years pay from Josephine D. Carlson of Memphis; Atty. William Miller, Mrs. Morris Hubbard, who resides on Avenue of Pines in the lovely home Hugh Lumpkin built for Harold Biddy; and new subscribers Pvt. Wm. E. Lane at Fort Hood, Texas, and many more.

International Harvester's slogan is "It's a fine sentiment and hard core sense, and is worthy of being repeated often, not only by their customers but by all manufacturers. It is our belief that every customer entitled to and shall receive the best services - one from the product itself and the other from the organization back of it."

Attorney Andrew Carother, Insurance man Ira Parks, and clothing man Heath paid up the other

Mr. Abel came in the other day and paid his daughter's, Mrs. Bohannon, in Nashville, subscription to the GCW.

There has got to be about the most fisherman in Grenada.

There was certainly a large crowd at the Citizens Council meeting at the Hall Tuesday night.

The World Series ended Tuesday night, but it was still going on over at the Fire Station Wednesday night.

The Seven Little Foys, with Bob and the Little Theatre Theatre weekend. Don't miss it!

Don't forget the 2nd largest show in America, the Al G. Kelly Miller Bros. Circus, will be in town this Saturday, October 6.

McQuay's Formal Opening A Tremendous Success

About 2500 persons attended the formal opening of the McQuay plant here Monday afternoon and 3,000 more visited the plant during open house lasting until 9 p. m.

Roy J. Resch, president of the huge concern which manufactures air conditioning, refrigeration, ventilating and heating equipment with headquarters in Minneapolis, told the audience, "We are happy to be here - we like it here and we believe you are going to like us."

Mr. Resch praised the Balance Agriculture with Industry program of the state and said, "If it had not been for your BAWI program, we would not be here, and furthermore if it had not been for your right-to-work law, we would not be here either."

The president of the company lashed out at methods of labor unions and said, "We feel as you do—that every person should have a right to work when and where he chooses."

Mr. Resch explained to the audience that he had just returned from Europe and had not prepared a speech, however, Mr. Resch is so fully in command of the entire situation as related to his business, that he had no need for a prepared speech. He made a splendid impression on his audience and his remarks and sentiments were soundly applauded.

Gov. Hugh White arrived a few minutes late for the program, but the unveiling of the bronze plaque by Mr. J. H. Oliver, at the entrance to the four-acre plant was delayed for his arrival. He spoke to the group in the south wing of the huge plant where the ceremonies were held.

The governor was generous in his praise of the people of Grenada County and said that at no time during the 16 years of his association with the government of the state had Grenada Countians failed to respond to his pleas and back his

Two Old Homes Sold

Last week we were informed that Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Brown had purchased the home of the late Mrs. Estelle Doak King, located on Main Street and known to older citizens as the Colonel Barksdale home.

The other sale came as a surprise when we learned that William Wright had sold his home "Seven Oaks" located on South Street, to Harold Biddy and family.

The Governor briefly outlined the history of the BAWI program and said, "As I leave office in January I am happy to know that the man who succeeds me as governor of this great state is a friend of the BAWI program and will strive to carry the planned industrial growth of Mississippi to every corner of the state."

The Governor was met at the entrance of the plant by Atty. General J. P. Coleman, and the two officials sat together throughout the program.

During the late afternoon and early evening, until 9 p. m., 3,000 visitors walked through the building, listened to a musical program and enjoyed refreshments. Tommie Darras, caterer, served all but 200 of the 5,900 hot dogs. Ice cream and cold drinks were also served.

Grenada High Defeats Amory 19-0

(By Hugh Ketchum)

Two long passes, one for a touchdown, and a pass interception for another score provided the margin of victory as the Grenada Bulldogs snapped back with a convincing 19 to 0 triumph over the Amory Panthers Friday night at Amory in a Little Ten battle.

Shafer Spence, who led the Bulldogs to victory with a fine running and passing game, passed for 31 yards to Jim Brasfield for the first Grenada score then hit Brasfield with a 40-yard toss in the third period which carried to the 12 and paved the way for another tally in the opening moments of the final period. Roy Edwards accounted for the third Bulldog touchdown when he snared a Panther aerial and raced 25 yards with the interception.

The game was a close one with the exception of the three aerial plays. The Panthers marched to the Grenada 14 in the first period only to lose the ball on downs. In the second period the Bulldogs moved 70 yards to score on the running of Spence. Hayes Branscome and Jackie Todd and the pass to Brasfield. Edwards scored his touchdown in the third then Branscome counted the final tally on the third play of the final period after Spence's pass to Brasfield had set up the opportunity. Spence scored the only extra point.

It was the second win in four games for the Bulldogs, who hold a victory over Houston in addition to losses to Indianola and West Point. This week the Bulldogs invade Starkville for another Little Ten battle with the undefeated Yellow Jackets, who have just about clinched the conference championship.

Grenada Hospital Has Installed Blood Bank

The Grenada Hospital has completed installation of a Blood Bank, which will make possible the introduction of a valuable new service to its patients.

The Blood Bank, manufactured by the Jewett Company of Buffalo, N. Y., is a unit scientifically designed for the proper storage of as many as 250 pints of whole blood at a uniform temperature of 42°F. Blood thus stored will be kept in perfect condition for a maximum period of three weeks, the longest storage period possible today. All blood types will be represented in the bank.

This new equipment will make blood immediately available in event of acute emergencies involving individuals or groups. Its service in event of any type of major community catastrophe is evident. It will also make for prompt and controlled use of whole blood in preparation of patients for major elective surgical procedures. The Blood Bank will eliminate the former delay necessitated by the time-consuming process of securing donors of the required blood type or ordering blood from Memphis.

A patient receiving blood from the bank will have the option of buying it at the prevailing market price, or replacing it at the rate of two pints for each pint used, up to a maximum of three pints used, after which the patients will be allowed to replace it at the rate of one pint for each pint used. Blood used on the replacement basis may be repaid any time within a six month period following its withdrawal. Only very rare types of blood will have to be replaced by identical blood types. The replacement ratio of two to one is necessitated by the brief safe storage period.

The installation of the Blood Bank thus enables the Grenada Hospital to render another beneficial service to our community and the surrounding territory.

If you fail to get your paper, it is probably because you revised our mailing list this week. Mr. Austin will probably get the blame for it. That is one of the reasons we have him here - to blame things on him.

STATE ATTRACTS 123 INDUSTRIES; EXPANSIONS; UPS TOURIST INCOME

A total of 123 new and expanded manufacturing plants employing 14,719 persons have been developed in Mississippi during the past two years, the Mississippi Agricultural and Industrial Board reports in its biennial message to the incoming session of the legislature.

The Board's two-year report also shows that the state's tourist income has climbed at the rate of better than $10,000,000 a year, or from $262,852,854 in 1952 to $285,776,941 in 1954. The section of the report covering industrial development shows that 74 new plants were established during the two years, while 49 existing plants underwent expansions. A total of 33 of the new plants and expansions were financed under provisions of the balance agriculture with industry act, while the balance were built with private capital.

The Board estimates that the state's manufacturing payroll was increased by $36,790,000.

Diversified Industry

The new additions listed by the Board in its report represent a wide variety of manufacturers, including apparel, textile, wood-working and furniture, metal fabricating, appliance, leather, chemicals, petroleum refining and a number of food products. Mississippians' interest in securing new industries is reflected in vote tabulations for the 32 industries financed under the BAWI act. People in communities which followed the BAWI route voted by a margin of 22 to 1, approving a total of $8,498,000 in bonds to acquire sites and construct buildings for lease to responsible manufacturers.

Charts accompanying the report show that per capita income, manufacturing payroll and sales tax collections all have risen during the period, while cash farm income dropped considerably. Growth for three consecutive years was considered the reason for this decline.

Food Processing

In line with the Board's policy of helping develop agriculture, the report shows that 12 of the plants located in the state during the biennium contribute directly to the development and diversification of agriculture. They include plants for meat packing, poultry processing, dairy products and other food processing. Numerous grain and seed processing units, including grain elevators, were established but not included in the tabulation of manufacturing plants.

A Small Business Development Council, sponsored jointly by the A. & I. Board and the Mississippi Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, has held numerous clinics during the period to aid Mississippians with ideas which might be converted into small businesses.

Industrial contact men of the Board, backed by a national program of industrial advertising and direct mail, have made personal visits to the home offices of 776 manufacturing companies during the period covered in the report. During the period from July 1, 1954, to September 1, 1955, the board sent 15,642 letters to manufacturers inviting them to consider Mississippi as a location for branch plants. Replies were received from 1924 companies, of which 563 firms indicated they would like to talk with an A. & I. Board representative.

Six important research studies were made during the period in a campaign designed to attract specific types of industry for which the state is well suited. These studies showed that Mississippi is especially well adapted for the apparel industry, the chemical industry, metal fabrication, and pulp processing. Surveys also were made of Mississippi salt deposits and the physical resources for the chemical industry.

The Board's industrial advertising program during the period, designed to keep the state's favorable story before business leaders and industrialists, was carried in a list of nationally recognized business magazines, newspapers and trade publications. One entire special magazine section of the New York Times was devoted to telling the story of the state's industrial opportunities and its BAWI plan.

Travel Promotion

Mississippi's efforts to get its share of the estimated $1,000,000,000 spent on pleasure travel in the nation each year resulted in an increase of 10 per cent for the state of $22,391,057 for the two-year period.

A total of 101,750 tourist inquiries were received by the Board's Travel Department during the biennium as a result of travel advertising in national magazines and newspapers, and other promotions.

To answer these inquiries intelligently, the department utilized various pieces of literature, including a new full-color general folder showing all scenic attractions and recreational facilities.

In an effort to reach additional millions of tourist minded Americans, the Board sponsored the state's first motion picture which will cover both the industrial and tourist opportunities. This picture is scheduled for completion within the next few months and will be distributed on a nation-wide basis.

In addition, the Travel Department sponsored exhibits at national travel shows, and was represented through exhibits and personnel at numerous national conventions.

The annual state-wide "Hospitality Month" program, designed to encourage local tourist promotion activities, has been actively participated in by more than 100 communities. Five Mississippi communities participating in this program were honored with national awards in the National Cleanest Town Contest.

The annual "Miss Hospitality" contest alone attracted 115 entries, all of whom represented their hometowns as the official goodwill ambassadors.

The activities of the A. & I. Board also have included a program to keep Mississippians informed of the state's development and of the activities of the Board. This program has included publication of a regular monthly magazine, "Mississippi Magic", regularly released newspaper releases, and talks by board members and staffers.

Can you pick the winner?

(All competing equally under the same rules)

Who stands to gain the most if all forms of transportation compete equally? Who will reap the benefits from new transportation laws recommended by an impartial President's Cabinet Committee?

Have you picked a winner? You are right, if you chose—yourself! Because the public will be the big winner. Equal competition will produce better, more economical transportation. And that economy will come back to you in the cost of almost everything you buy.

The President's Cabinet Committee says: "In many respects, government policy at present prevents, or severely limits... the most economical use of our transportation plant."

That's what the committee wants to change—for your benefit.

STATE ATTRACTS 123 INDUSTRIAL EXPANSIONS; UPS TOURIST INCOME

A total of 123 new and expanded plants have been developed in Mississippi during the last two years, the Mississippi Agricultural and Industrial Board reports in its biennial message to the incoming session of the legislature.

The Board's two-year report also shows that the state's tourist business has climbed at the rate of better than $10,000,000 a year, or from $263,082,884 in 1932 to $285,776,041 in 1934.

The section of the report covering industrial development shows that 74 new plants were established during the two years, while 49 existing plants underwent expansions. A total of 33 of the new plants and expansions were financed under provisions of the balance agriculture with industry act, while the balance were built with private capital.

The Board estimates that the state's manufacturing payrolls were increased by $30,700,000.

Diversified Industry
The new additions listed by the Board in its report represent a wide variety of manufacturers, including apparel, textile, wood-working and furniture, metal fabricating, appliance, leather, chemicals, petroleum refining and a number of food products.

Mississippians' interest in securing new industries is reflected in vote tabulations for the 32 industries financed under the BAWI act, people in communities which followed the BAWI route voted by a margin of 22 to 1, approving a total of $3,498,000 in bonds to acquire sites and construct buildings for lease to responsible manufacturers.

Charts accompanying the report show that per capita income, manufacturing payrolls and sales tax collections all have risen during the period, while cash farm income dropped considerably. Drouth for three consecutive years was considered the reason for this decline.

Food Processing
In line with the Board's policy of helping develop agriculture, the report shows that 12 of the plants located in the state during the biennium contribute directly to the development and diversification of agriculture. They include plants for meat packing, poultry processing, dairy products and other food products. Numerous grain and seed processing units, including grain elevators, were established but not included in the tabulation of manufacturing plants.

A Small Business Development Council, sponsored jointly by the A. & I. Board and the Mississippi Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, has held numerous clinics during the period to aid Mississippians with ideas which might be converted into small businesses.

Industrial contact men of the Board, backed by a national program of industrial advertising and direct mail, have made personal visits to the home offices of 776 manufacturing companies during the period covered in the report. During the period from July 1, 1934, to September 1, 1935, the board sent 15,642 letters to manufacturers inviting them to consider Mississippi as a location for branch plants.

Replies were received from 1924 companies, of which 563 firms indicated they would like to talk with an A. & I. Board representative.

Six important research studies were made during the period in a campaign designed to attract specific types of industry for which the state is well suited. These studies showed that Mississippi is especially well adapted for the apparel industry, the chemical industry, metal fabrication, and pulp processing. Surveys also were made of Mississippi salt deposits and the physical resources for the chemical industry.

The Board's industrial advertising program during the period, designed to keep the state's favorable story before business leaders and industrialists, was carried in a list of nationally recognized business magazines, newspapers and trade publications. One entire special magazine section of the New York Times was devoted to telling the story of the state's industrial opportunities and its BAWI plan.

Travel Promotion
Mississippi's efforts to get its share of the estimated $10,000,000,000 spent on pleasure travel in the nation each year resulted in an increased tourist business for the state of $22,694,057 for the two-year period.

A total of 106,750 tourist inquiries were received by the Board's Travel Department during the biennium as a result of travel advertising in national magazines and newspapers and other promotions.

To answer these inquiries intelligently, the department utilized various pieces of literature, including a new full-color general folder showing all scenic attractions and recreational facilities.

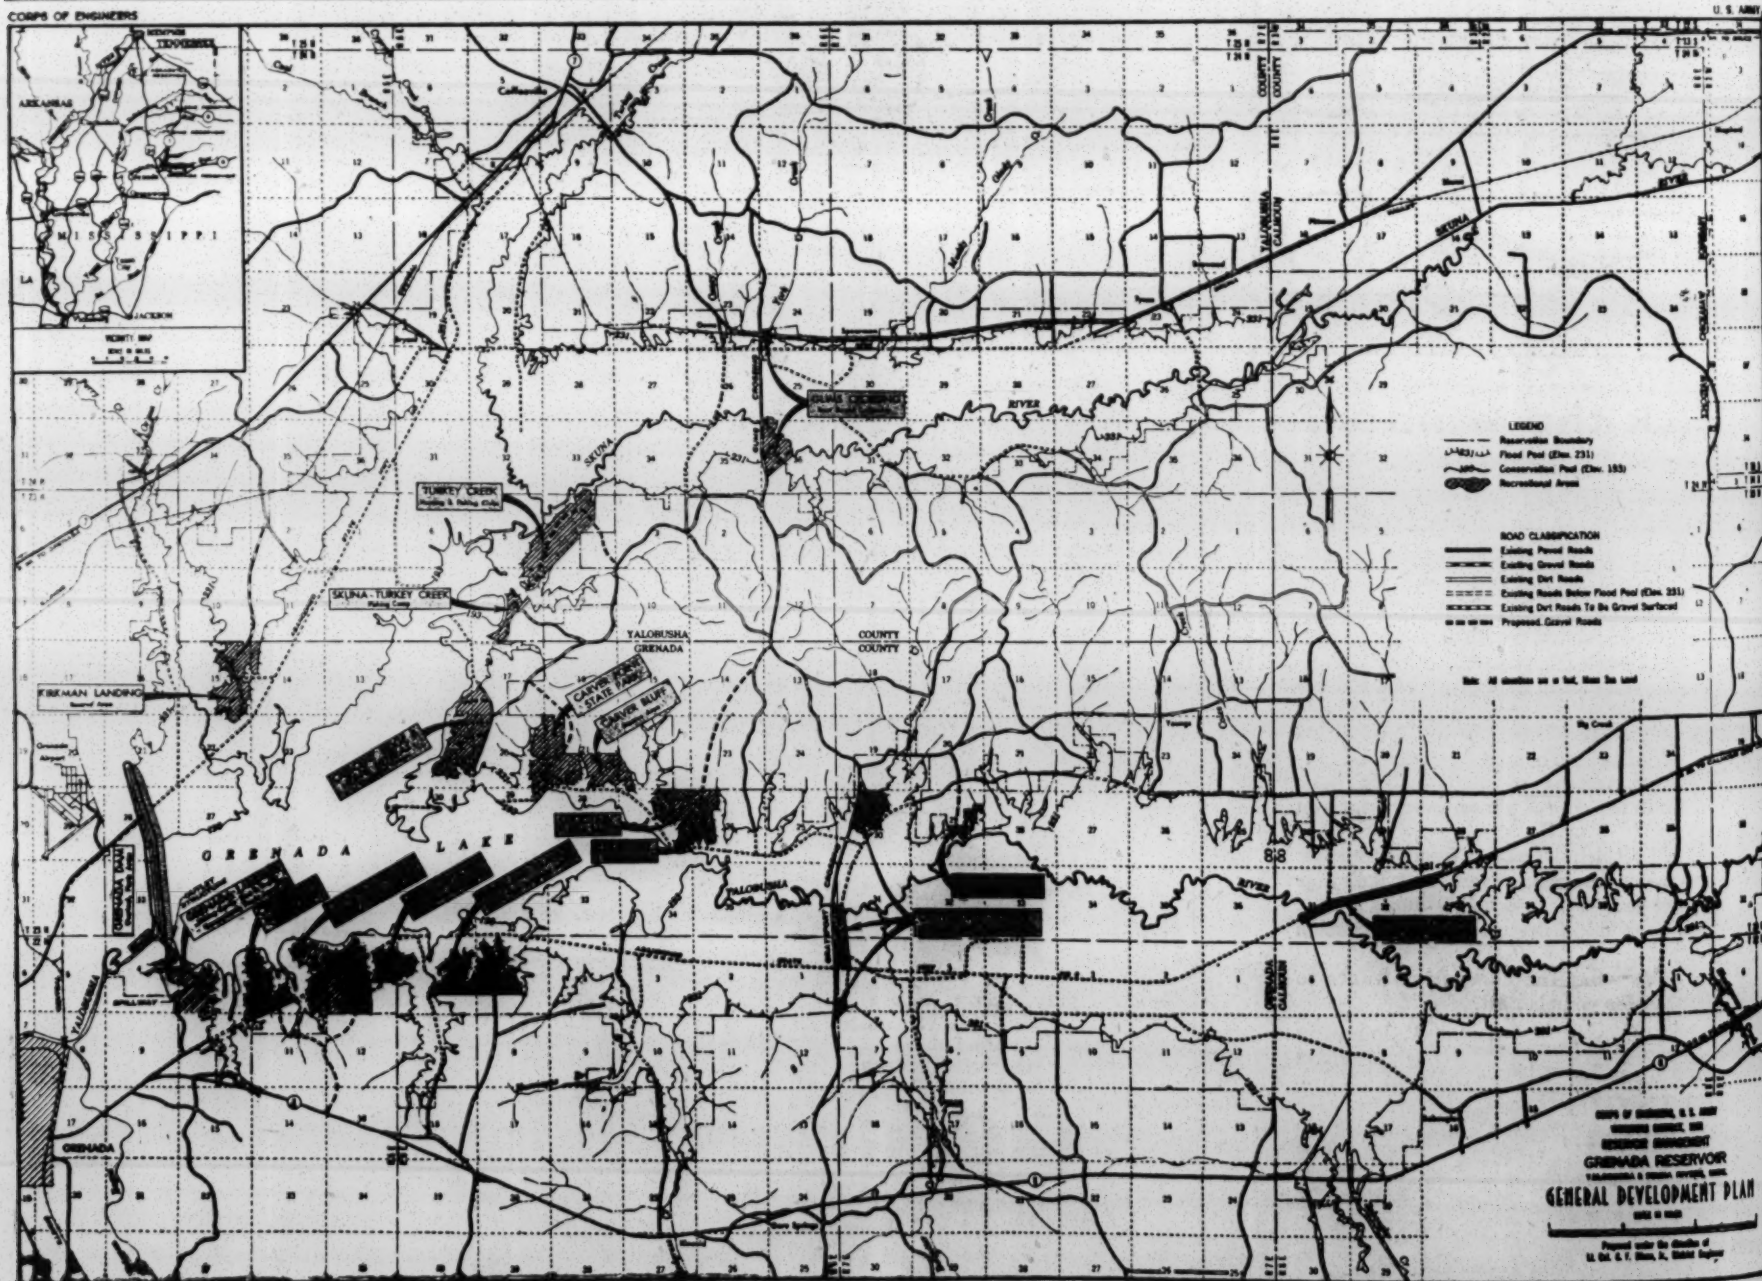

In an effort to reach additional millions of tourist-minded Americans, the Board sponsored the state's first motion picture which will cover both the industrial and tourist opportunities. This picture is scheduled for completion within the next few months and will be distributed on a nation-wide basis.

In addition, the Travel Department sponsored exhibits at national travel shows, and was represented through exhibits and personnel at numerous national conventions.

The annual state-wide "Hospitality Month" program, designed to encourage local tourist promotion activities, has been actively participated in by more than 100 communities. Five Mississippi communities participating in this program were honored with national awards in the National Cleanest Town Contest.

The annual "Miss Hospitality" contest alone attracted 115 entries, all of whom represented their hometowns as the official goodwill ambassadors.

The activities of the A. & I. Board also have included a program to keep Mississippians informed of the state's development and of the activities of the Board. This program has included publication of a regular monthly magazine, "Mississippi Magic", regularly released newspaper releases, and talks by board members and staffers.

Jesus Is Real

Lesson for October 9, 1955

IT IS hard to say what is the most important doctrine of the Christian religion. Probably you would get more votes for the doctrine we call the Incarnation than for any other; because so many other doctrines hinge on this one. If you do not believe in the Incarnation you haven't much left of the Atonement, and (if you really face it) you have lost what is most valuable in your doctrine of God. Be that as it may, if you asked for a vote among people who have given this some serious thought, as to what is the most distinctive Christian doctrine, you would have a practically unanimous answer: The Incarnation. This is expressed in various ways both in the Bible and in Christian theology. About the simplest way of putting it in Bible language is that "God was in Christ" (II Corinthians 5:19). The simplest way of putting it in theological language may be that Christ was both human and divine.

Dr. Foreman

Jesus Was a Real Person

You wouldn't think it necessary to hammer on the point that Jesus was a real person, that is to say that he really was, and didn't just seem to be, a child and a boy and a grown man. Yet the church has often had to call a halt to mea and movements that explained-away the real humanity of Jesus till there was really nothing left of it. The great church council held at Chalcedon (the Evanston of that era) in 451 A. D. found it necessary to say—in their own way of course—that Christ is as much divine as God is divine, and as much human as you and I are human. For some strange reason, however, the reality of Jesus as a human person is forgotten or denied by men. Again and again we have to be brought up with a start by the gospel story, the story of a real man. Like all real men, Jesus grew from a real boy. The modern interest in childhood and the realization that "the child is father of the man."

The Child Grew

Legends, tales without foundation, have made the boy Jesus into a smaller-sized adult. According to some of these legends, when Jesus went to school, the very first day, he not only knew the alphabet already but he delivered a philosophical discourse that astonished the teacher. Luke does not give us any such picture of an already-grown mind in a tiny body. He gives us a glimpse of a real child really growing. At first he grew without trying, of course, as every one does. What he ate and drank made him taller and stronger. He learned the Aramaic language, spoken in his village and in his family, just as children learn their mother-tongue everywhere in the world, just by hearing it and trying to speak it, till it becomes as natural as breathing. His mind grew by what was put into it, because it was a really human mind. Dolls are all the same no matter what goes on around them; human beings on the contrary grow or shrink, depending on their surroundings. It is not too much to say that if (for instance) Jesus' mother Mary had been a different kind of person, he would have been different too. To think otherwise is to fancy Jesus a kind of doll.

The Boy Moved Forward

As has been often noted, Luke uses a different word, for Jesus after his twelfth year. Before that, he "grew,"—the same word used for flowers and buildings, elsewhere in the Bible. After that, he "increased"—and the word always implies will, effort. Up to a certain age a child can't help growing; he doesn't even give it a thought. But after a certain age, not the same in every one to be sure, if a person grows he has to put his mind on it; and he can choose the direction in which he will grow. Jesus could choose his friends; he could do what he would with his spare time. He grew by his work in the carpenter shop, we may be certain; but what about the hours when he was not working? When Jesus was fully grown, we know how familiar he was with the Scriptures. We know how well he understood people. Could he have achieved any of this without trying, without growing?

VFW To Launch 1956 Membership Drive Saturday With Kickoff Party And Dance At Post Home

The 1956 membership campaign of the Warren E. Campbell Post 4488, Veterans of Foreign Wars, is being launched in this area, according to Norris Carrigan, Post Adjutant - Quartermaster. The kickoff will be held at the Post Home on Reservoir Road with a chicken supper and dance beginning at 7:00 P. M. with Gordon Logan, Sr. Vice Commander in charge of the preparations and program. Mr. Logan is membership chairman for the veteran organization. The Ladies Auxiliary will also have their kickoff for the 1956 membership drive at the same time.

At the last meeting, Post Commander John W. Willis, Jr., stated that early indications reveal that there will be an increase in the VFW activities, with special emphasis on membership, community service projects, and assisting veterans and their families with pension, compensation and hospitalization problems.

Mr. Carrigan reports that plans are being formulated to enlist every present and former member for the ensuing year; he extends a cordial invitation for all eligible veterans to affiliate with the local overseas veteran group.

Theme of the local Veterans of Foreign Wars membership drive that will get underway Saturday, will be a "Do It Yourself Drive", which means don't wait for George to sign up that eligible veteran, do it yourself. Eventually all eligible veterans in this area will be contacted, it was announced by Mr. Carrigan, Post Adjutant-Quartermaster.

"It is our intentions" the VFW spokesman stated, "to organize a door-to-door, house-to-house, and community-by-community membership campaign, to seek out an increased membership for the organization." Carrigan said that there are dozens of veterans in this community who should affiliate themselves with the VFW, and help carry on and extend the noble ideals and programs upon which the overseas veteran fraternity was founded.

Many noted national and state department VFW officials are expected to be present and featured at the annual membership party. The most outstanding of these dignitaries will be E. H. Babe Meeks, National Activities Director of the VFW. Mr. Meeks presently of Kansas City, Mo., hails from Abilene, Texas. Also expected will be, Mississippi VFW Department Commander Jeff Williams, of Lexington, Miss.

Poultry Show And Sale Saturday Morning

The Sears 4-H Poultry Chain

Show and Sale will be held on the Square in Grenada, Saturday morning, October 22, 1955 at 10 a. m. Last Spring, nine 4-H Club boys and girls were given one hundred day old chicks each through the Sears Poultry Chain. Each 4-H Club member agreed to care for the chickens as instructed by the Agents. Now the birds are about six months old and they are coming into light production.

Saturday morning, October 22, each club member will select 12 of their better hens and bring them to the Show. They will be judged and $7.2 prize money and ribbons will be awarded to the winners by Sears Roebuck and Company. The hens will then be sold at public auction and the money will be used next spring to continue and possibly enlarge the Chain next year.

If you are interested in buying some extra good pullets that are just coming into production, this will be the time and place to get them. They will be sold in lots of 12.

We will also have a few remarks from the one judging the birds as to what a good bird consists of and also the general care and management of a laying flock.

Ray M. McGee, Assistant County Agent, Grenada County.

Benefits that have accrued over the years for veterans and their dependents didn't "just happen." They are the fruits of unending efforts on the part of the

The horse pulling this wagon is responsible for many of the benefits that the veterans of America's wars are receiving and have received; such as: The G. I. I. loans for homes and business, Hospitalization and Medical Treatment at VA Hospitals, Rehabilitation for Veterans, Disability pensions, terminal leave pay, bonuses, On-the-job training, tuition fees for college and other educational benefits, farm training. This horse is also responsible for other benefits for veterans, in that it advocated and took the leading role in urging and demanding that Congress provide for the veterans as far back as 1899. Other benefits that the V. F. W. was responsible for obtaining for the veterans are burial allowances, World War I Veterans Compensations, credit for Civil Service Employment and veterans preference in obtaining government jobs, service mustering out pay, your government insurance, and many others too numerous to mention.
